Geo B McClellan

The Peace Democracy at their McClellan club meeting last Saturday night at the Theater urged the claims of their hero upon two grounds: first that he is a statesman and secondly that he is an eminent general. As to the first argument it is drawn from his letter to the President after McClellan had retired to Harrison's Landing. In that letter of date, July 7th, 1862, McClellan says:

"This rebellion has assumed the character of a war; as such it should be regarded and it should be conducted upon the highest principles known to Christian civilization. It should not be a war looking to the subjugation of the people of any State in any event. It should not be at all a war upon population, but against armed force and political organizations. Neither confiscation of property, political executions of persons, territorial organizations of States, or forcible abolition of slavery should be contemplated for a moment." This passage was quoted by Mr. Grover in proof of McClellan's statesmanship! Shades of Washington, Clay, Webster, Benton and Jackson! This is almost enough to make the bones of those old heroes move in their graves with virtuous indignation. That a proof of statesmanship! That evidence of ability! Upon such principles, so far as he could, the doughty little general conducted the Peninsula campaign, earning, not undeservedly, the sobriquet—"The grave digger of the Chickahominy." It will be remembered that when McClellan was ordered to report at Trenton N. J. his political friends made him a dinner, at which, in response to a toast, he expressed the hope that the American people would see to it that the war was conducted for constitutional objects and in a constitutional way. How similar the spirit and tone of the two utterances. The general upon a sad defeat of our armies dictates to the President a political letter and in the same strain he seeks to throw public suspicion and doubt upon the integrity and wisdom of the President. That proof of statesmanship and greatness? It stamps the author with quite another character. A man must be very contracted, untrue to real greatness or very malignant who could write such a letter and make such an insinuation against Mr Lincoln at a time like that in which he so insinuated. The American people have estimated Mr Lincoln far differently and the spleen of the retired General, like that of General Fremont against the incorruptible and beloved President will only recoil upon their own pates.

If the political pronunciamentos of General McClellan prove him to be anything else than a statesman, his military record is far from sustaining the claim made for him, of being an able general. No man had more largely the hope, the favor and the confidence of the people. No man ever commanded a finer army, or one more trammeled in a holier, nobler cause. All the conditions of success met in the promise of his campaign; yet never was a failure more utter. From being the idol of the people he became their loathing and [illegible]. For eight months his only achievements were the disasters of Ball's Bluff, and grand parades and reviews. We must except an order which he made to expel the Hutchinsons from the lines for singing patriotic songs to the Army of the Potomac. Six miles a day in pursuit of the rebels. A campaign of sixteen months and South Mountain and Antietam the chief successes, and the latter only a failure from the tardiness of McClellan to pursue the retiring army of Lee. A good engineer he may be, and probably is, but a great man an able general or a distinguished statesman he is not, nor can he ever become one. Generally speaking the public will estimate a man according to his real merits. Accident or fortune may depress or elevate him for the moment, but he is certain to find his true level and McClellan is finding his. He will get the last finishing touch when, on the 8th of next November, the votes of loyal intelligent Americans will bury him too deep for the trump of resurrection to reach him.

THE TRUE AMERICAN SPIRIT.—When the news first reached the golden shores of the Pacific of the gallant exploits of the brave Mexican, Cortinas, in punishing the audacity of the rebel hordes of Texas a thrill of gratitude to the noble defender of Mexico animated the loyal heart and awakened warm sympathies for a sister Republic, struggling like our own, for life and existence. Glowing in the country of their adoption, yet with hearts bleeding for the wrongs of their own native land, the Mexicans of San Francisco celebrated the event in a manner which proved both their devotion to our own glorious Union and their hatred of tyranny and oppression. Nor were the Mexicans alone in their desire to bear witness of the heroism and gallantry of the brave Cortinas. A thousand American hearts beat in unison with theirs and invoked blessings on the patriot cause of Mexico. The San Francisco American Flag in commenting upon the brilliant scene presented on this occasion, but expresses the sentiments of every true American: When the Mexican flag, interlaced with the Stars and Stripes, was brought into Platt's Hall, the immense audience once rose and saluted it with tremendous cheering. The great American doctrine enunciated by President Monroe was there [illegible] and every one present felt that the [illegible] the great republic ought to be [illegible] Cortinas in exterminating the [illegible] country. The [illegible] stability of the Maximilian Empire [illegible] American citizen feels that it is his duty [illegible] the extermination of all Gallic [illegible] dared to [illegible] feet of his slaves. [illegible] embarrassments [illegible] assistance which is due to a sister republic struggling in the grasp of [illegible] eagerly look forward to the time when the [illegible] gation of our own rebellion will enable the United States Government to reassert the [illegible] doctrine which will expel every foreign monarchist from the continent.

Of course it is clear as a bell to-day and all the world of fair goers have a chance to dry themselves on the way home.

DEFENSES OF RICHMOND.—Many thoughtless people are greatly disappointed at Grant's delay in taking Richmond. There was a time when Richmond could have been taken by the Army of the Potomac with but little difficulty. McClellan could have taken it had he possessed the [illegible] amount of energy and enterprise immediately after Fair Oaks. But since that time the condition of things has been essentially changed. The defenses which at that time were inconsiderable have been rendered truly formidable and [illegible] Richmond is to-day altogether a different [illegible] from what it was when General McClellan was at the head of the Army of the Potomac. [illegible] fortifications [illegible] a circuit of sixty miles [illegible] are arranged with [illegible] inner lines [illegible] [illegible]

THE WEATHER.—It was the common remark of every body on the street yesterday that the weather was particularly pleasant and was agreeable to all. A friend has sent us the following, in relation to the pleasant spell, which we cheerfully publish:

Can any one say,
Who has walked by the river, or wanders away
From the noise of the city, this October day,
And looks from the banks, up or down as he may,
On the beautiful picture, in colors as gay
As the Oriole's plumage,—He'd rather not stay
In Portland, on account of the climate?

If he thinks there's a land that only yclearer skies
More brilliantly studded with stars, that like eyes
Look down upon us, brightly and twinkle surprise
At our wonderful progress—resembling our size—
Where the forests in autumn are richer in dyes,
Or brighter than hues of the clouds as they rise
Encircling with glory the day as it dies—
I'd like to know where he would find it.

MILITARY RESOLUTIONS.—The following are a brave set of resolutions, as will be seen by No. 3, in accordance with the provisions of which they were borne from the field in triumph. We are informed, however, that it was necessary for Brigadier General Coffin to muster his entire Brigade in order that each resolution might be withdrawn:

Resolved, by the members of the Oregon State Agricultural Society in mass meeting assembled on the Fair grounds, That the Board of Managers are instructed that they do not, during the Fair, or at any Fair to be held hereafter, invite, or permit, any Military Company to come within the enclosure of the Fair grounds, during the time of the annual Fair, and experience having shown us that military parade very materially interferes with the only legitimate object of a Fair.

Resolved, That there can be no objection to the use of the grounds being tendered to them for the purpose of encampment, and for training, at any other time.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to Brigadier General Coffin, with a request that he withdraw them from the ground immediately.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be published in the Statesman, and the other papers of the State.

J. QUINN THORNTON,
President Oregon State Ag. Socy.

Sept. 19, 1864.

We are further informed that the whole matter was treated for an indignant scorn, but was very poorly appreciated, and that several of the Militia officers, residing in this vicinity, have determined to pass in their commissions before visiting another Salem Fair.

HEAVY FRUIT.—We have never doubted the capability of Oregon to produce the finest fruit in the world. If anybody does doubt it, however, let them take a look at the collection in process of packing at Shelby's fruit depot, near the steamship landing. Any day they choose to drop in there Mr. Baker will show them around among the boxes, and fix Oregon top most in their mind for big apples. The State has never had the credit due it on this score—great errors are made on account of it sometimes, too—hence we are anxious to keep our advantages before the people. Specimens of the Oregon fruit may be seen at our office. For instance, a Winesap, which is generally a small variety, measures 12¼ inches in circumference. A specimen of the White Winter Pearmain measures 13½ in. circumference. And there are any amount of larger varieties to be seen at the store.

FERRY SLIPS.—At different times, since the existence of Portland, streets terminating at the river have been cut out and graded down to afford an appropriate landing for the boat ferries. Now as the city improves it becomes apparent that these places must be remodeled, to meet with the grade of the street running parallel with the river, and the work will be attended with no small degree of expense. The landing which seems at present to be the most popular and acceptable is at the foot of Stark street, and it is a most miserable landing. What is much needed, and must soon be built, is a regular ferry slip on the most improved scale, and why it should not be immediately constructed is often a query among those residents on the East side, who are daily compelled to climb through mud and filth to reach the summit of the city grade.

THE PREMIUMS.—It may be interesting at this time for our people to know who took the premiums at the Salem Fair. Notwithstanding, an old competitor, who has always taken the first prize on dental work, was arrayed against our townsman Dr. J. A. Cardwell, the latter gentleman bore the palm this year. The best premiums were awarded to Joseph Buchtel on specimens in the Daguerrean art. Mr. Pierson took the first prize on his fine display of sewing machines and embroidery. Dr. [illegible] of this county, received numerous premiums on agricultural products—or at least he should.

ARSON.—The new dwelling of Mr. Maguire, destroyed by fire in the Third Ward of this city on Sunday night, was not finished, and had never been occupied. It was a very neat cottage and the loss is about $1,000. The cause of this destruction undoubtedly was the match of an incendiary, and a very strong suspicion rests upon a person who is thought to have applied it. The firemen especially take an interest in the matter, and it will be made hot work for the party trying his hand at that business once more.

A FAIR FOR THE NORTHERN COUNTIES.—We understand that a number of leading citizens from this and the neighboring counties, contemplate the getting up of an embryo Agricultural Fair, to come off within the present month. All that will be necessary is to raise a few hundred dollars to defray the expenses, which we know can be easily done in this city alone.

CARRIERS OF THE MORNING OREGONIAN.—Mr. J. [illegible] is now the city carrier for this paper on the route south from Alder street, having taken charge of it on the 11th ult. Mr. W. [illegible] Ball will continue on the route north of Alder street. They are both faithful men, and we are assured will be prompt and correct in the delivery of the paper to subscribers.

GLORY.—Somebody's idea of glory was to be killed in battle and have his name spelt wrong in the papers. There are events in life when it would not be glorious to have one's name spelt wrong in the papers, and correspondents should remember that names are not easily guessed by the printers. Write all names plainly and we can guess at the rest.

DELAYED.—The Overland Coach, bringing mails from the south, did not reach this city last night in time to admit of a distribution of the contents by the Postmaster.

OUT OF RIG.—The propeller George S. Wright has not proceeded, on Sunday when her machinery gave out, and she was compelled to lay by for repairs. She will take a fresh start for Victoria today.

ARRIVAL OF THE CAMBRIDGE.—We are pleased to see once more the first class bark Cambridge, Capt. Brooks, in our port from the Sandwich Islands. She arrived at Couch's wharf yesterday.

HARDWARE.—Attention is directed to the advertisement of E. J. Northrup & Co in another column of this paper.

Vigilance H. & L. Co. No. 1.—Regular Monthly Meeting this (Tuesday) evening at 7 o'clock precisely.
Portland, Oct. 4, 1864. W. [illegible], Sec'y.

HAVE YOU HEARD THE NEWS?—Wonder if the Copperhead [illegible] of this State heard of the victories of our soldiers under Sheridan in the Shenandoah Valley? Haven't seen a word in any of their papers about the victory. Probably they think that Sheridan's way of doing business ignores the necessity of a Convention of States. Did any one believe that the Copperhead Convention was in earnest when it declared that "in the event of our obtaining power they will receive all the care, protection and regard that brave soldiers of the Republic have so nobly won"? When their deeds of valor are heralded forth in every Union paper, from every stump, no single Copperhead has a word of praise for them. The news of these victories [illegible] the rebels could, and not cheer is ever heard at a Copperhead meeting. They either have not heard the news, or else it does not suit them. Which [illegible]

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.—The stomach is the fountain head of scores of diseases which infest the human system. Indigestion, bad enough per se, generates diarrhoea, dysentery, faintness, vertigo, palpitation of the heart, general debility, &c. Cure them all at once, by going through a course of DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, a palatable and refreshing preparation, which as surely relieves all complaints of the stomach and its dependencies, as the sunshine melts the snow. A course of the medicine may not perhaps be necessary. One of the frequently accomplishes a complete cure.—Sold by all Druggists and dealers everywhere.

The first effect of a bilious climate upon the human system is to produce torpor and inactivity of the Liver, thereby preventing the natural and free discharge of bile. All know the insidious nature of the poison that produces Fever and Ague, and its kindred diseases. A sallow complexion, capricious appetite, and occasional pain in the side, are often the only symptoms, to warn of impending danger. The operation of Dr. Osgood's India Cholagogue is to counteract this miasmal influence, by producing activity of the biliary organs, and a healthy discharge of bile from the system.
Guard against imitations. Be sure that you obtain Dr. Osgood's India Cholagogue and you are safe. Sold everywhere. Sole Agents for the Pacific Coast,
REDINGTON & CO.,
416 and 418 Front street, San Francisco.

"A Slight Cold," Coughs.—Few are aware of the importance of checking a Cough or "SLIGHT COLD" in its first stage; that which in the beginning would yield to a mild remedy, if neglected, soon attacks the lungs. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" give sure and almost immediate relief. Military Officers and Soldiers should have them, as they can be carried in the pocket and taken as occasion requires.
REDINGTON & CO., San Francisco, Agents for the Pacific Coast.

Dysentery.—For Dysentery and similar complaints of the Summer season, the PERUVIAN SYRUP has proved a remarkable preventive and cure. By imparting tone to the intestinal mucous membrane, it places this surface in the best possible condition to resist the irritation of crude and indigestible articles of food.

THE ATTENTION OF THE TRADE IS PARTICULARLY requested to the above favorite brand of Oysters. Messrs. The superiority of this method over the more ingenious one of steaming the Oysters in bulk in order to open them, whereby the natural liquor is lost and a manufactured one has to be substituted, is apparent, and recommends itself to all who have given the brand a trial.

Having had eight years experience in the line of HORSE SHOEING, I solicit those favoring me with a trial, and rely upon having their work executed in the best workmanlike manner, and upon the most reasonable terms.

A word to the Aged.

In the decline of life the loss of vital force consequent upon physical decay can only be safely suppled by some vivifying preparation which recruits the strength and spirits, without entailing the exhaustion which is always the final effect of ordinary stimulants. We tender to the aged

Leads you on the field of battle,
Where I'll never see you more—
Leave you where [illegible]
Though 'tis for your [illegible]
Leave you where the [illegible]

CHORUS.—No, I'll not forget you, darling,
Though if [illegible] more
Could be granted [illegible]
[illegible]

No, I'll not forget you, darling,
Oh, 'tis strange that you should ask,

Let it ever like a [illegible]
Round your rugged pathway shining,
The love of Mother, God and Heaven,
Let it round your soul be twined.

No, I'll not forget you, darling,
But oh, the time has been so long
Since the morning that you left me
To defend the right 'gainst wrong.
Till now I feel my sad heart sinking,
While I think you may not come,
When this raging strife is ended,
And your comrades reach their home.

No, I'll not forget you, darling,
Be thou always brave and true;
God will guard you there as safely
As beneath my roof He did.
And, perchance, when all is over,
You with others, too, may come,
Crying "Victory is ours,"
While we give you welcome home.

HOW COLORADO TERRITORY ESCAPED AN INDIAN MASSACRE.—The Rocky Mountain (Denver, N. T.) News of August 31st says:

Few are aware how narrowly the people of Colorado escaped a general Indian massacre less than a week ago. The Indians had collected at a camp on Beaver creek to the number of nearly 1,000. There were none but warriors, all mounted and without tents or baggage. On a certain time, which was to have been last Monday night, or on the first or second one thereafter, they were to divide and strike simultaneously upon all the frontier settlements. About 300 warriors were to attack Pueblo and then sweep the settlements along the Arkansas and Fountain-qui-Bouille; 200 were to aim for the headwaters of Cherry creek, destroying the settlements right and left; a force of 100 was to attack Fort Lupton and the settlers thereabouts, and a fourth party of 300 were to take [illegible] and then clean out the settlements along down the Platte river to the junction or beyond. Their plans were admirably laid, and had they been carried out the most wholesale Indian massacre ever known would have visited our unfortunate Territory ere this. When almost ready for execution, two Cheyenne under chiefs visited the trading post of an old plains trader for whom they had a strong friendship, and warned him of what was coming. They told him that he must move himself and family and drive his stock away, or they would share the fate of the balance. He instantly mounted his horse, and in company with another Indian chief who had remained friendly, rode sixty miles to this city without stopping. He laid his information before the Governor; military couriers were at once dispatched to all the threatened points, and every possible precaution taken to circumvent the savages.

Fortunately, it was in time to prevent the most awful consequences. The Indians found the whites on the alert, and the threatened blow was deferred, for the present at least. Thus a friendly Indian has performed the most signal service and saved hundreds of lives. But for his devotion, the horrors of Minnesota, upon a far larger scale, would have been re-enacted in our very midst. During his absence the white trader's stock was all stolen by the savages. He and a neighbor lost one hundred and fifty head of horses and cattle.

THE OVERLAND MAIL.—The officers and enlisted men of California and Nevada general volunteers publish at Camp Douglas a spicy little sheet, from which we quote some remarks throwing light on our Overland Mail matters, a subject in which all our citizens feel an interest. After quoting an article from a San Francisco paper, the editor says:

The above we extract from a recent number of the Morning Call. The suspicions expressed might be denominated shrewd, if there was any foundation in fact for them. We assure our San Francisco cotemporary, that the Indians, possibly inspired by the guerrillas, are at the bottom of the whole affair, and not the distinguished stage drivers. As we have said before, a tremendous panic actually exists among the whites from Denver to the Missouri river—the country has been placed under martial law and war declared against the savages. We agree with the Call that it is a little remarkable that the Indians do not break up the telegraph lines. But such is unquestionably the fact. Some ascribe it to superstition, and we have heard a dozen different theories presented. The most rational one, however, is that the Indians believe that if they break the wires, the whites can instantly tell the exact point where the break occurs and thus track them. Hence they are cautious about meddling with the lightning.

Solution of Protoxide of Iron,

Has been used with great success in Curing

DYSPEPSIA,

and all Diseases which require a

Tonic and Alterative Medicine.

THE PROOFS OF ITS EFFICACY are so numerous, so [illegible] that [illegible] reasonably hesitate to receive the proffered [illegible].
The class of diseases for which the Syrup provides a cure, is precisely that which has so often baffled the highest order of medical skill. The facts are tangible, the witnesses accessible, and the safety and efficacy of the Syrup incontrovertible.

From well-known Citizens of Boston.

The undersigned having experienced the beneficial effects of the "Peruvian Syrup," do not hesitate to recommend it to the attention of the public.

Certificate of Dr. Hayes.

It is well known that the medicinal effects of Protoxide of Iron is lost by even a very brief exposure to air, and that to maintain a solution of Protoxide of Iron, without further oxidation, has been deemed impossible.
In the Peruvian Syrup this desirable point is attained by COMBINATION IN A WAY BEFORE UNKNOWN; and this solution may replace all the [illegible] citrates and tartrates of the Materia Medica. A. A. HAYES, M.D.,

IODINE WATER.

IODINE WATER IS THE MOST IMPORTANT DISCOVERY of modern chemistry, and it is impossible to over-estimate its [illegible] remedial agent. Iodine has been considered the most useful article in Materia Medica, and many of the most scientific and practical chemists and physicians have investigated its effects upon the human system. It is [illegible] upon the

HEART,
LIVER, KIDNEYS,
DIGESTIVE ORGANS AND GLANDULAR SYSTEM,

and to have great control over

SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS.

Notwithstanding the zeal and ability which have been devoted to its investigation, it remained almost useless, until Dr. Henry Anders, a physician and chemist of New York, after years of patient labor and experiment, discovered a chemical process which enabled him to dissolve

PURE IODINE IN PURE WATER,

without a solvent. This [illegible] by the [illegible] certificates of analysis from Dr. J. R. Chilton of this city, and Prof. Booth, U. S. Mint, Philadelphia. The importance of this discovery was so highly appreciated by the Faculty that it was published in the Medical Journals, and its use recommended to practitioners, (see "American Medical Monthly," July 6, 1863, page 78.)
This valuable medicine is now available to the public for the cure of Scrofula in all its manifold forms, Consumption, Cancer, [illegible], Liver and Kidney Diseases, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Nervous Affections, Dyspepsia, Bronchitis, etc.

AS A TONIC

Its operation is evinced by strengthening the digestive organs and increased nutrition of the body is the result of the employment of Iodine. The patient recovers flesh, strength and color; hitherto pale, relaxed and feeble, he becomes [illegible] strong and [illegible].

From the army hospital—the bloody battle field—the mansion of the rich and humble abode of the poor—from the office and the sacred desk—from the mountain tops, distant valleys, far-off islands of the ocean—in every nook and corner of the civilized world—is pouring in the evidence of the astonishing effects of DRAKE'S PLANTATION BITTERS. Thousands upon thousands of letters like the following may be seen at our office:

[illegible], Wis., Sept. [illegible]
* * * I have been in the army hospital for [illegible] months—speechless and nearly dead. At Alton, Ill., they gave me a bottle of Plantation Bitters. * * * Three bottles restored my speech and cured me. * * *
C. A. [illegible]

[illegible], WAUSAU, O., [illegible] 18[illegible]
* * * One of my little boys, who had been sick almost out of the house for two years with Scrofula and Dyspepsia, after paying the doctors over $[illegible] without benefit, has been cured by ten bottles of your Bitters.
EDWARD WOOLSALL.

The following is from the manager of the Union Home School for the Children of Volunteers:

HAVEMEYER MANSION, FIFTY-SEVENTH STREET,
NEW YORK, August 2, 1863.
"DR. DRAKE: Your wonderful Plantation Bitters have been given to some of our little children suffering from weakness and weak lungs with most happy effect. One little girl in particular, with pains in her head, loss of appetite, and daily wasting consumption, on whom all medical skill had been exhausted, has been entirely restored. We commenced with but a teaspoonful of Bitters a day. Her appetite and strength rapidly increased, and she is now well. Respectfully, MRS. O. M. DEVOE."

* * * I owe much to you, for I verily believe the Plantation Bitters have saved my life.
REV. W. H. WAGONER, Madrid, N. Y.

* * * Thou wilt send me two bottles more of thy Plantation Bitters. My wife has been greatly benefited by their use.
Thy friend, ASA CURRIN, Philadelphia, Pa.

* * * I have been a great sufferer from Dyspepsia, and had to abandon preaching. * * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me.
REV. J. S. CATHORN, Rochester, N. Y.

* * * Send us twenty-four dozen more of your Plantation Bitters, the popularity of which are daily increasing with the guests of our house.
SYKES, CHADWICK & CO.,
Proprietors Willard's Hotel, Washington, D. C.

* * * I have given the Plantation Bitters to hundreds of our disabled soldiers with the most astonishing effect.
G. W. A. DIEWS,
Superintendent Soldiers' Home, Cincinnati, O.

* * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me of liver complaint, of which I was laid up prostrate and had to abandon my business. H. B. KINGSLEY, Cleveland, O.

* * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me of a derangement of the kidneys and urinary organs that has distressed me for years. It acts like a charm.
C. C. MOORE, 254 Broadway, N. Y.

etc. etc. etc. etc.

The Plantation Bitters make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya Bark, Wintergreen, Sassafras, Roots, Herbs, &c., all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix Rum.

S. T.—1860.—X.

Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c., deserve to suffer if they will not try them.

They are recommended by the highest medical authorities, and are warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure and harmless.

NOTICE.—Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters in bulk or by the gallon is a swindler and impostor. It is put up only in our patent log cabin bottle. Beware of bottles refilled with imitation deleterious stuff, for which several persons are already in prison. See that every bottle has our private United States Stamp over the cork unmutilated, and signature on steel plate side label.

Sold by respectable dealers throughout the habitable globe.
